The Cincinnati Bible Seminary
Cincinnati, Ohio

Robin Smith, Editor

Tom Friskney, Adviser

"To everything there is a season, and a time to every purpose under the heaven ..." The words of Solomon ring true for the activities of a year at The Cincinnati Bible Seminary. These pages bear testimony to the activities of 1974-'75 and in them you will meet the people who have made this year different from all the others.

Nautilus 1975 focuses on people. People of all ages, shapes, and sizes have shared together one year of life on a quiet hill of Cincinnati.

The hill is especially quiet during the summer months. Dorms are nearly empty. Classrooms are silent. But, the heart of CBS continues to beat as administrators, teachers, and custodians busily prepare for yet another year.

The end of summer and the arrival of fall are marked by the arrival of students as the campus comes alive with people, people everywhere. Pause within these pages and you will catch a glimpse of these people and the places which fused to form The Cincinnati Bible Seminary for at least one year, this year 1974-'75

It is with kind regard that the Class of 1975 dedicates the Nautilus. The school has many friends and supporters that are so vital in her life and yet unknown by many of the school family. Two such friends are Karl and Jean Lutz, Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania.

This family is a link with the past. His father, Henry F. Lutz, was president of McGarvey Bible College in 1923, Louisville, Kentucky. (That school, having R. C. Foster and Ralph L. Records on the faculty, merged with the Cincinnati Bible Institute to form Cincinnati Bible Seminary in 1924.) Henry F. Lutz, A.B., B.D., Ph.D., then served on the faculty of Cincinnati Bible Seminary. He was also a well-known national evangelist.

Karl Lutz, A.B., B.L., M.P.L., was graduated from Bethany College, Bethany, West Virginia. He received his law degrees from George Washington University Law School, and had a successful forty-seven-year career as a patent lawyer. Since his retirement in 1967, as a biochemist he has given much attention to writing and lecturing on health and nutrition. A number of articles have appeared in Prevention magazine.

Dedication to Jean and Karl Lutz

Jean Wiegand Lutz, A.B., as well as her husband, has a great appreciation of quality higher education and of music. She was graduated from Wells College, Aurora, New York, having been reared in Butler, Pennsylvania. She has served as organist and choir director. He is vice-chairman of the board of control of the Bellevue Christian Church, Mt. Lebanon, Pennsylvania, where both are adult Bible school teachers and active Christians.

Mr. and Mrs. Karl Lutz are involved with the present life of the school, being liberal in their support. They are as well concerned about the future of the school and have made provision accordingly. Hence, we feel one with them and to them affectionately dedicate the 1975 Nautilus.

Summer Was Busy

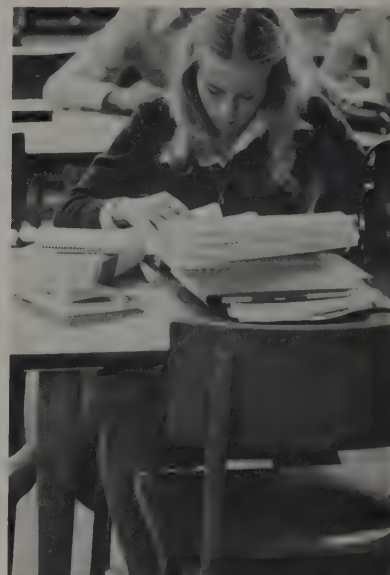

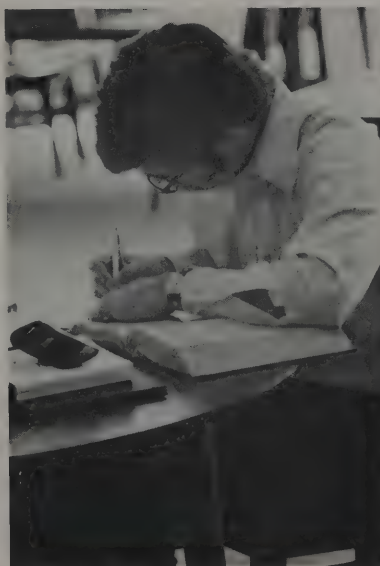

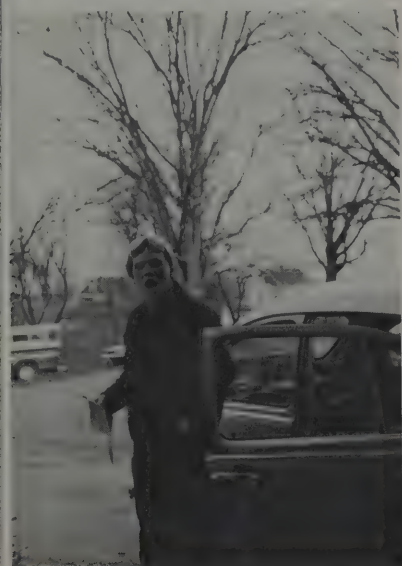

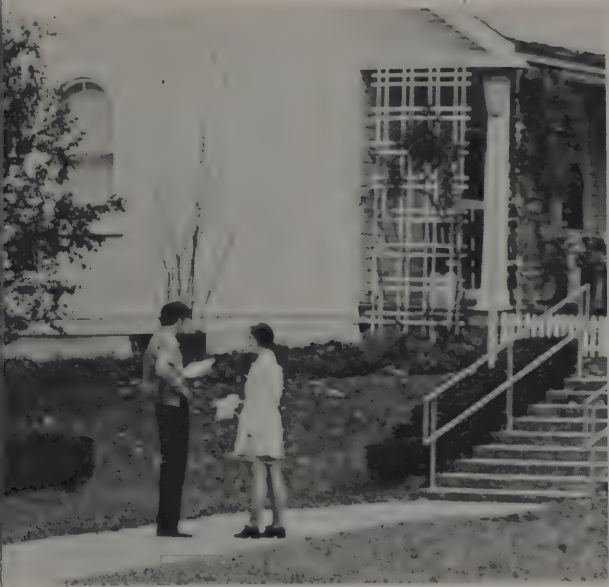

Fall Has Its Highs

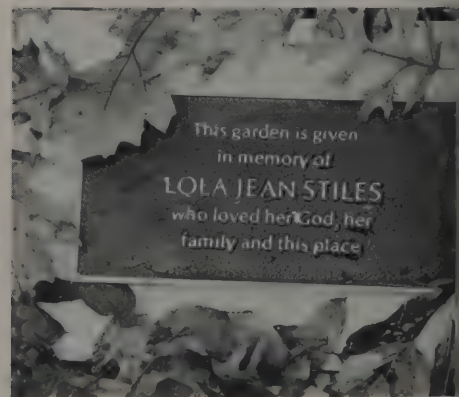

Winter . . . Not All Work

Afterward Comes Spring

Summer's splendor spreads over the campus while most students are diligently laboring in their hometowns across the nation and literally around the world trying to earn enough money to attend CBS in the fall.

Summer's hot sun beats down upon the grassy hillsides as the familiar squirrels scamper across the lawns and among the branches of the mighty oaks, enjoying the cool shade. The campus basks in the bright sunshine as if preparing for the invasion which lies ahead.

But all of summer's scenes are not bucolic. Administrators, custodians, and teachers are hard at work. Librarians, printers, and secretaries are readying for the new year. Softball provides recreation for men and women. The Come Alive Singers are touring the land. Registration is one of summer's final events. "Sunshine" portrays these facets of summer activity.

SUNSHINE

Our President

Frustration, heartbreak, tremendous pressure and great joy — these are all prime emotions among the administration, faculty, staff, and trustees of a great college. Such is the case at C.B.S.

President Harvey C. Bream, Jr. heads up an administration that bears the load of the ongoing of C.B.S. Mrs. Lucille Miller assists the president as his secretary.

Serving as academic dean and vice-president, Mr. Earl Sims heads up the curriculum committee of the school. He also assists President Bream in the administrative work of the college.

Carrying a heavy weight of responsibility, Mr. Don Miller serves C.B.S. as the chairman of the Board of Trustees. These men are ultimately responsible for the continuation of our school.

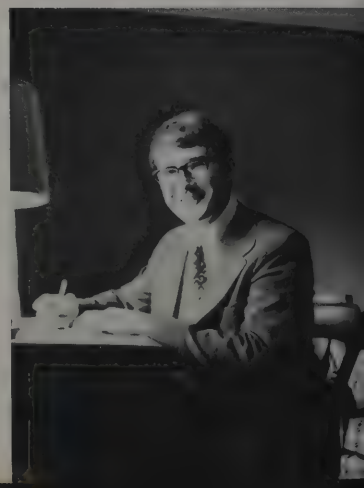

Few people appreciate and love C.B.S. as much as these mentioned above. For, in a real sense, each one invests part of his life daily in service for our alma mater — The Cincinnati Bible Seminary.

Across the Country With 1974 "Come Alive"

Come Alive, 1974, visited the Capitol during their fifteen-week tour through twenty-six states. Their singing opened the doors of churches across the land which heard the Good News expressed with new energy and vitality.

Two Come Alive Camp Quartets (BOTTOM LEFT AND RIGHT) also traveled all summer long to one week of camp after another. They served in any and every capacity a camping experience demands.

Sure, Shawn Made It Through the Line

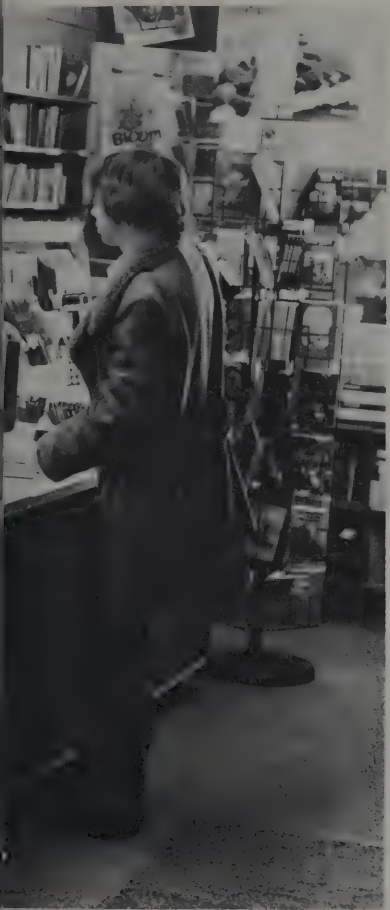

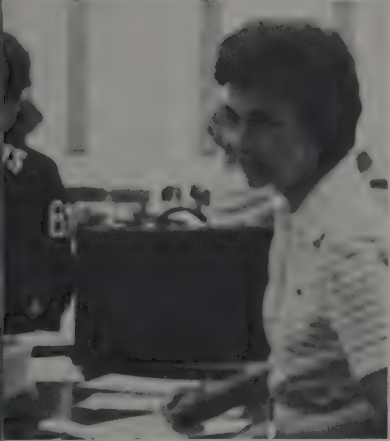

While students of many colleges and universities stand in longer lines every year waiting to register for classes, students at C.B.S. find the process increasingly "easier to handle." Much of the thanks is due Miss Rosanne Russell, registrar for C.B.S.

For those who pre-register, the process is much shorter at the beginning of each semester of study. Even for those who do not heed the warnings to register early, registration time seems much more bearable than in past years.

The entire process takes place in the air-conditioned (in the summer) and heated (in the winter) library building. Students receive course plan counseling from faculty advisors, fill out the necessary forms, receive class cards, and make those dreaded payments all in the same building.

Christian service information completes those things necessary to register for classes. Then, it is on to the bookstore — one step closer to every student's goal of graduation.

Fall is perhaps the most exciting time of year.

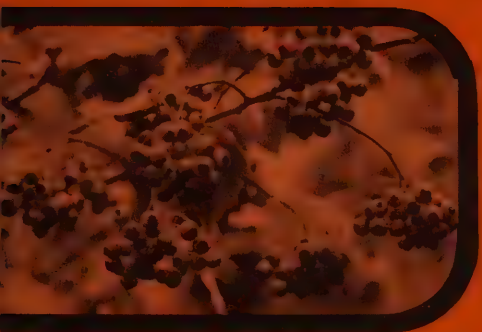

New students eagerly build the relationships which they will share throughout the year.

Underclassmen return to rekindle relationships born in previous years. Friendliness is the watchword of the day. As one freshman wrote after only a few weeks at school, "The friendliness of everyone at The Cincinnati Bible Seminary is astonishing. It seems as if everyone I pass as I walk across campus greets me briefly as we go our separate ways to study or fellowship."

Spiritual Emphasis Week furnishes vital spiritual food necessary to sustain each one through a long semester. Social events, such as Sneak Day (oh, oh), Talent Night, Parents Day, banquets, and intramural sports facilitate the interaction of the entire Seminary family.

"Autumn Rays" illumines these facets of fall.

AUTUMN RAYS

Chapel Means Worship and Inspiration

This year, chapel services were organized by President Bream and a committee of professors headed by Ken Goble. Students and professors alike were challenged by inspiring song services and messages by preachers from all over the United States and even some countries overseas.

Sneak Special Sept. '74

Even the Cincinnati Police Department got into the act of "Sneak Day '74." The two squad cars sent to escort the freshmen march to Mount Echo Park were on duty, and "sneaked in" thirty-minutes late.

The rest of the morning consisted of whipped cream pies (in freshmen faces, of course), rolls in the mud, and various other punishments dealt upon the new freshman. Senior Steve Kehrer and Ivan Tucker did an efficient job as prosecutor and judge respectively.

Miss Linda Williams, English instructor, managed to recover from a pie in the face aptly applied by Professor R.J. Kidwell. All of the ills of the freshmen were appeased when the judge of the Kangaroo Court received one of those cream pies in the face.

Following the traditional picnic lunch, the classes competed among one another in the annual football games. The class won the championship game over the juniors.

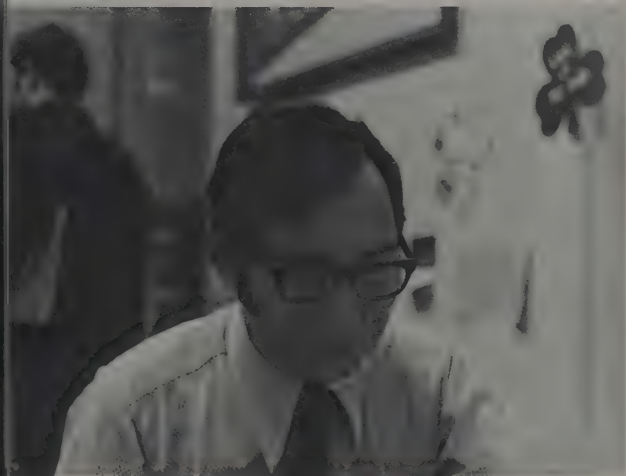

The day was completed with a skating activity for all the family.

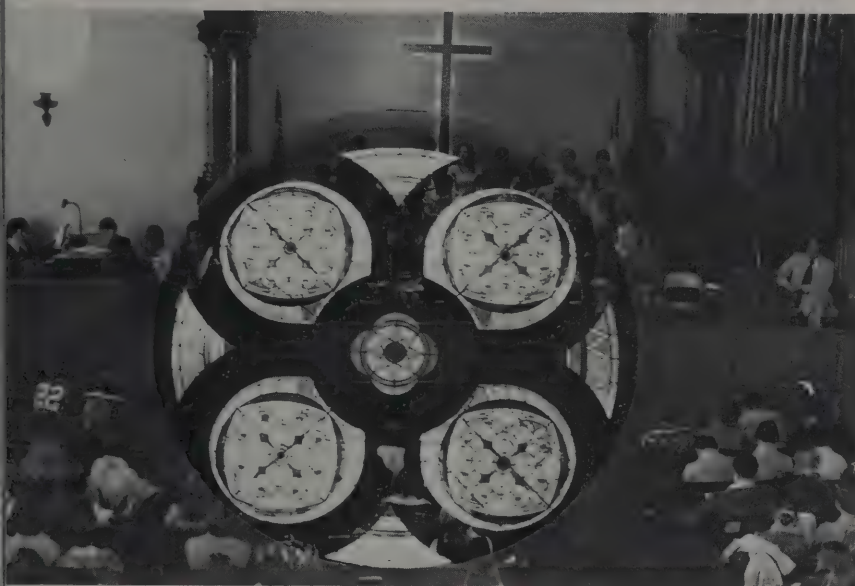

Campus Life, a Great Life

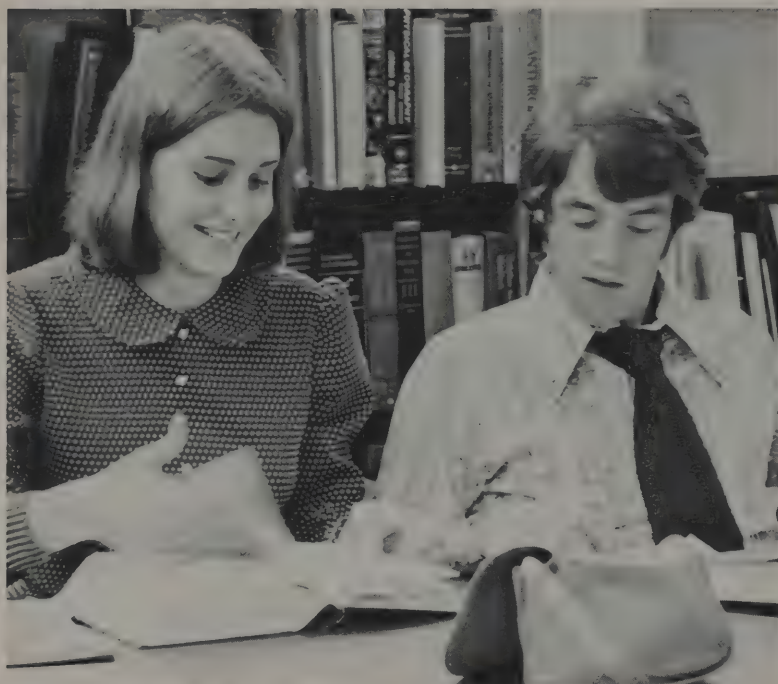

Faces and Places to Treasure

Following Their Parents and Missionaries

Second generation students share a common background: their parents are C.B.S. alumni. These students bear witness to the esteem in which their parents hold their alma mater.

Missionaries at home and abroad encourage their children to receive instruction at C.B.S. We are proud to have these students on campus.

Whatsoever Girls Have Specific Purposes

Approximately 800 women were challenged by speaker June Beeman at the Women's Banquet, held October 24, 1974, at Schueler's Banquet Hall.

The theme was "God's Bountiful Harvest." Bill Carrington provided dinner music while The Come Alive Singers brought the entertainment. The Women's Banquet is annually sponsored by the Whatsoever Club.

Preachers Are Made, Not Born

The preachers accomplished both old and new projects this year. Led by their officers Rod Ellis, Skip Blackwell, Tim Sims, and Darryl Moulder, the Ambassadors carried out the eminently successful Men's Banquet. Six hundred men from the tri-state area joined faculty and students in crowding Schueler's banquet hall to hear Reggie Thomas.

The Ambassadors' next project was the annual preaching contest. The contest culminated in chapel early in December. Rod Ellis earned first place honors and Jeff Metzger was runner-up.

In February, the Ambassadors initiated the Titus Club for all young men ages 10-18 who are interested in the preaching ministry. Preaching, workshops, and a devotional prayer time highlighted the first annual Titus Club Rally.

The 27th National Missionary Convention

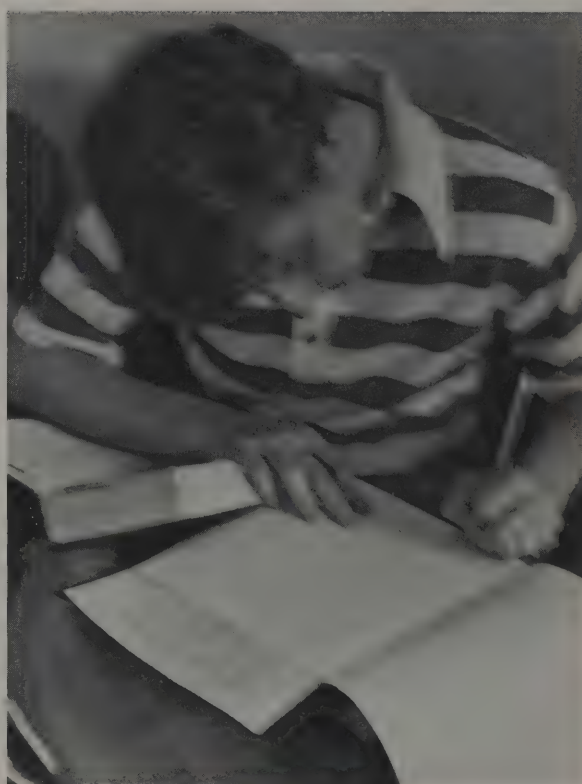

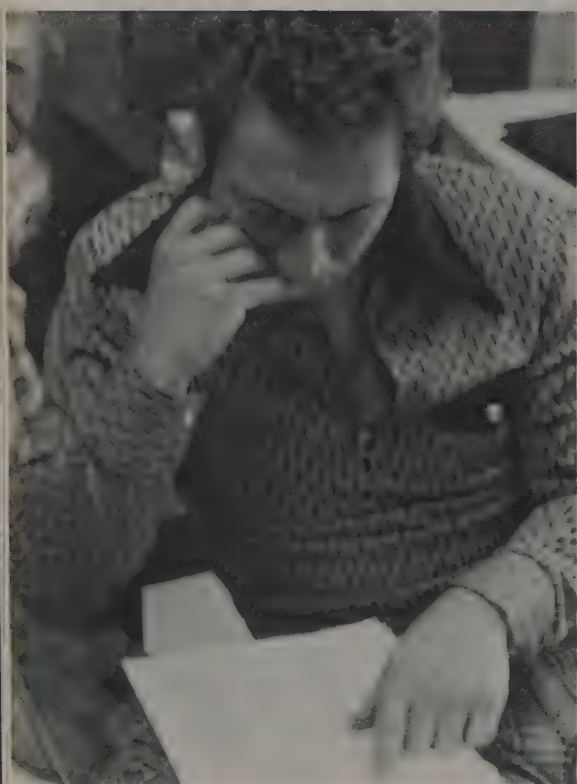

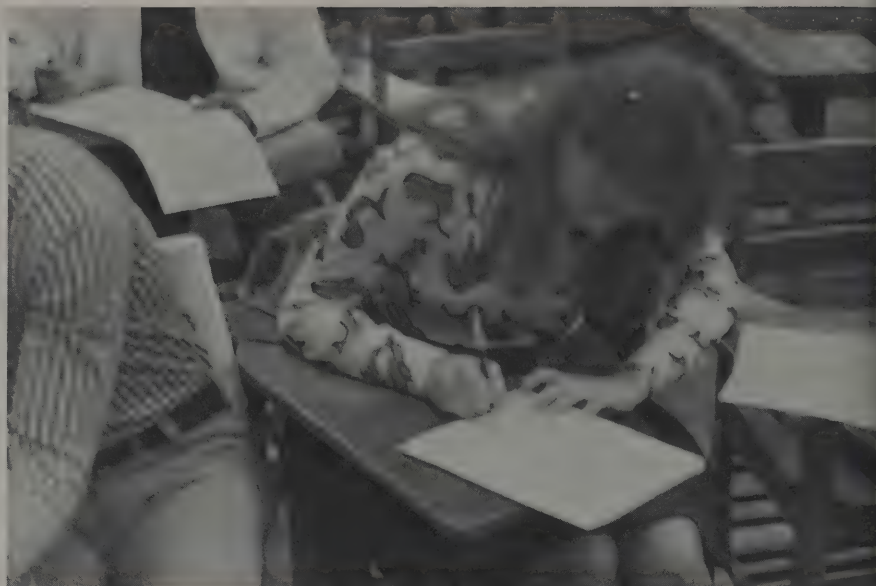

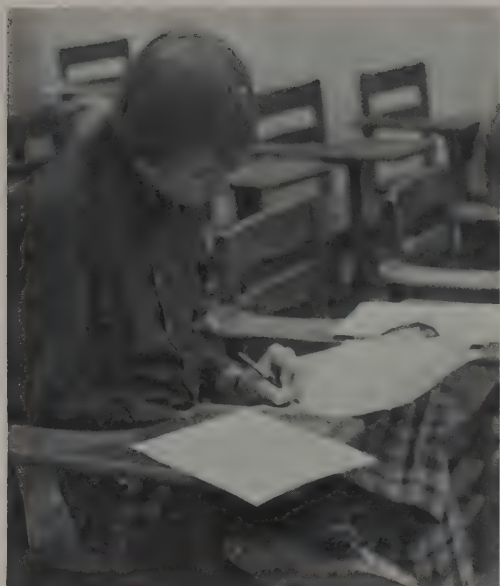

The 27th National Missionary Convention, exploring the theme of "God's Compelling Power," was held at the Cincinnati Convention Center on November 26-29, 1974. It replaced our regular Conference on Evangelism.

"... The Times Which Try Men's Souls"

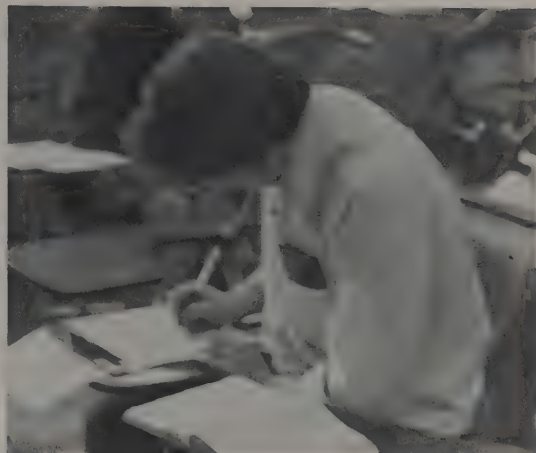

"These are the times which try men's souls." Semester examinations challenge students to demonstrate what they have learned. Exam week drives everyone to extremes — sometime opposite extremes.

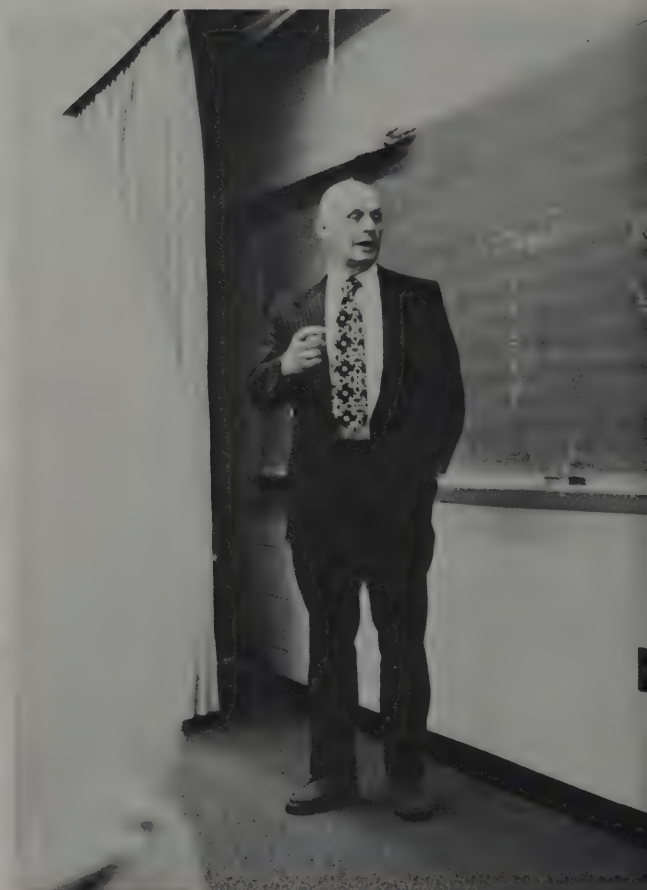

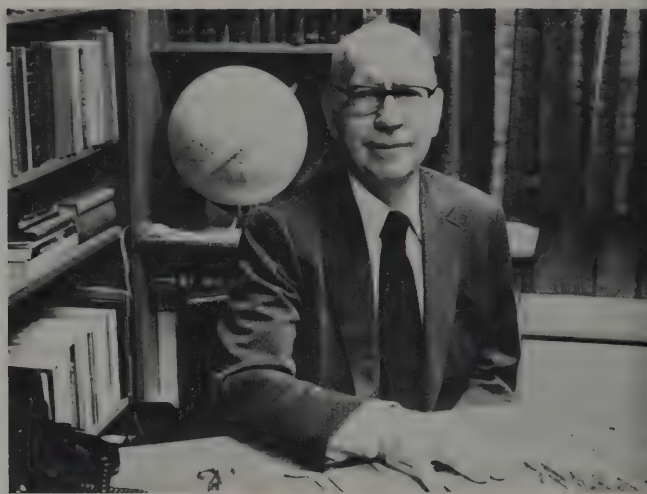

Many students cram as never before, studying all day and all night. Others crack under the pressure and escape by staying in the sack all morning or by bowling all night (in violation of curfew? Never!).

"Like a city that is broken into and without walls is a man who has no control over his spirit" (Proverbs 25:28). Exam week is truly a time of testing.

Teaching . . . With Years of Experience

TOP LEFT: George Mark Elliott, Distinguished Professor of Theology and Old Testament, has compiled 38 teaching years here at C.B.S. Because of poor health, Professor Elliott limited his teaching to a few lectures during the 1974-'75 school year. He was chosen by the Class of '75 as the Baccalaureate speaker. TOP RIGHT: Robert Drake, Professor of archeology, leads frequent tours to the Holy Land. He has completed 26 years of instructing at the Seminary. BOTTOM: Dr. Lewis Foster has combined 25 years at C.B.S. teaching New Testament courses in both the under-graduate and graduate schools with serving as dean of the Christian Seminary. His "bald spot" evokes constant praise from his admiring students.

TOP LEFT: Willard W. Winter, Professor of Old Testament and Language, reviews some work with his secretary, Miss Linda Chittick. Professor Winter, who has been on the teaching staff for 29 years, enjoys special interest in the mission work in Africa.

The leaves are gone. Black branches stand in stark contrast to the gray sky. Winter casts her shadow upon the campus.

Although nature is asleep, students' schedules are filled to overflowing. Exams are rapidly approaching. Many students are preparing for the Christmas concert, while others actively engage in intercollegiate and intramural sports. Basketball games, conventions, and seminars, as well as a very special day, Heart's Day, all take place during the busy winter months. These months comprise most of the school year, but the rapid pace of school life makes them fly by.

"Shadows" shows the people and places of winter activity.

SHADOWS

Christmas Is a Time to Sing

From "The Twelve Days After Christmas" to "O Sacred Head Now Wounded," the music department transformed Mount St. Joseph Auditorium into a December "winter wonderland" at the Annual Christmas Concert. Four performing groups brought both sacred and secular selections.

The concert's aim was to highlight the spiritual meaning as well as the joyous nature of the holiday season. Nearly 900 of the Seminary family and their friends attended the enjoyable evening of song.

Stacy's Seminar Captures Interest

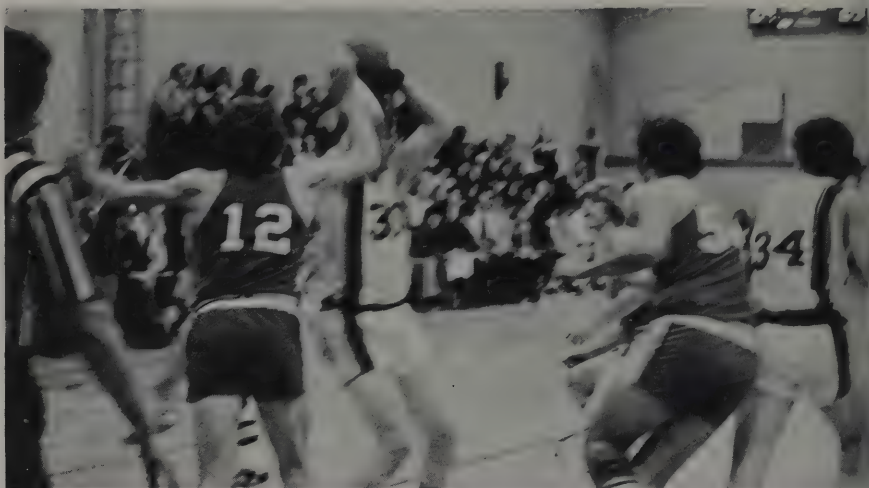

Trying to meet the pressing needs of the challenging work among the youth of today, C.B.S. offered a Youth Ministries Seminar between semesters. The one-week sessions led by Bob Stacy and Brian Giebler of Christ in Youth, Tulsa, Oklahoma, extended from January 6-10.

Titled "Introduction to Youth Ministry" and "Communication With Youth," the courses carried one hour of credit. Both Bible college and graduate students received credit towards their degrees for these mini-courses.

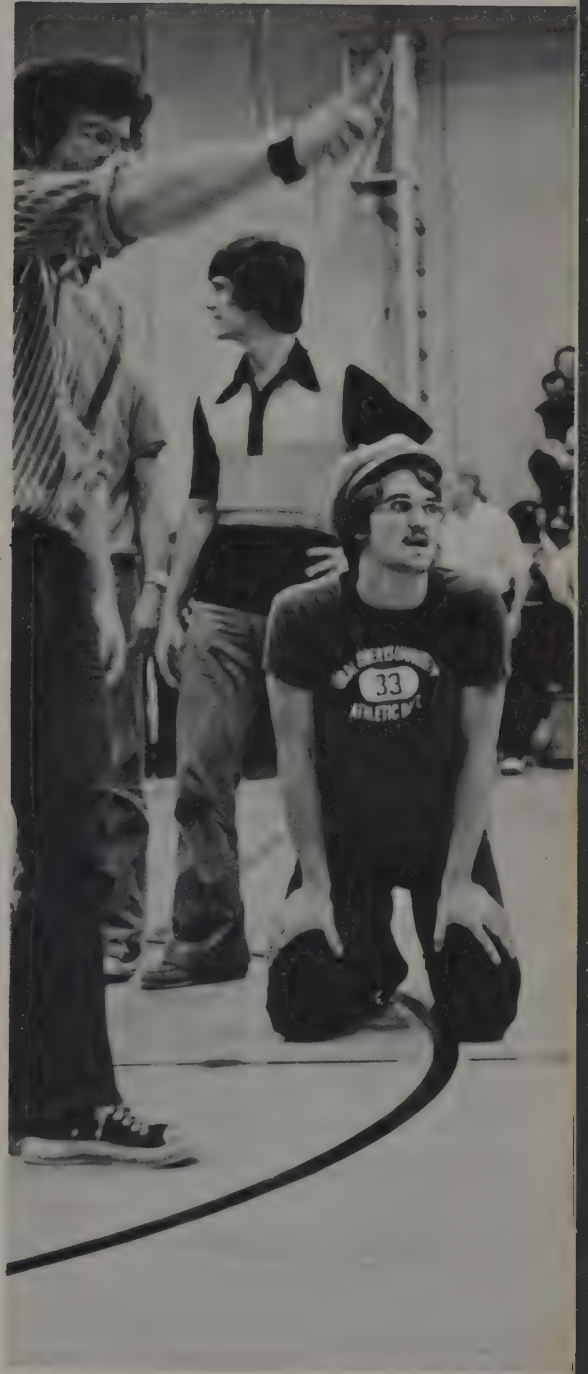

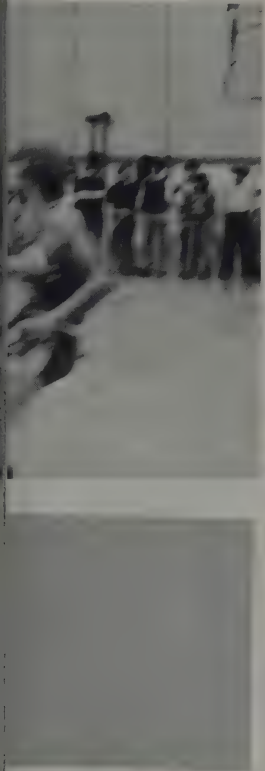

Knights Slow Down Eagle Machine

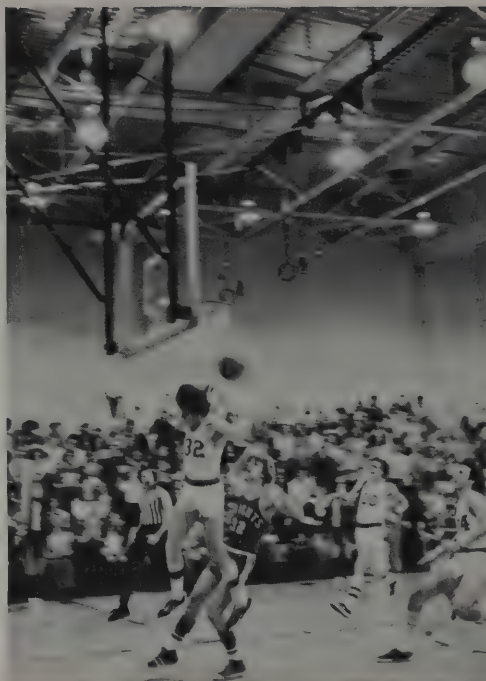

The Golden Eagles of the Cincinnati Bible College, coached by Ken Goble, achieved another winning season this year. A list of the team members includes Steve Angel, Mark Blackmore, Randy Frye, Gary Johnson, Jeff Metzger, Phil Naylor, Morris Reed, Tim Seevers, Tony Thomas, Dave Underwood, and Tim Wallingford. Steve Angel, Mark Blackmore, and Tony Thomas also served as captains.

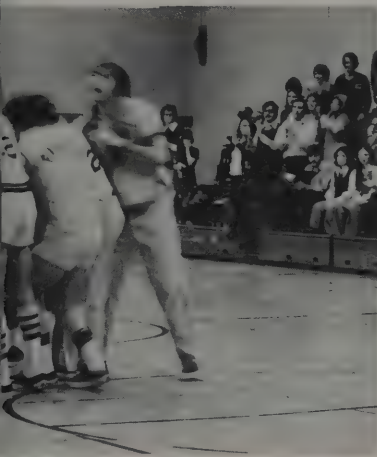

Vicky Beiser, Brenda Cotterman, Patty Pierson, Gloria Stansberry, Becki Underwood, and Lucy Wilkin cheered the purple and gold to victory, while Rob Brawner, Jon Underwood, and Chuck Oakes (Managers), Connie Welch (Statistician), and John Richardson (Athletic Director) performed other duties indispensable to the success of the team.

Great Gals — Courtwise

Much hustle, energy, and plain old determination characterize the 1974-75 C.B.C. "Golden E-Gals" basketball team. Under the able direction of coach Linda Williams, the inter-collegiate women's team challenged several secular and Bible college teams. A major highlight of the season, the "E-Gals" defeated the Lincoln Christian College team on the Illinois court.

To the Victors Belongs the Banquet

The second annual sports banquet honored those athletes who participated on school teams during the past year. A former Golden Eagle, Taylor Jefferson, addressed the crowd prior to the presentation of the awards. Outstanding athletes in the various sports received special awards. Each coach was presented a gift of appreciation by his team.

The Gospel Has Go-Power

"The fields are white unto harvest" and the members of the World Missions Volunteers organization on campus promote the commission of Matthew 28 to "Go into all the world ..."

Led by President Bob Underwood, Vice-president Millie Hardy, and Reporter Kathy McCann, the members emphasize various Christian missions as well as lead in youth rallies, special church services, and various other Christian programs.

Here, Near, There, and Everywhere

Mission Emphasis Week featured an expanded slate of speakers and sessions in 1975. The emphasis began on Monday evening at the Missions Banquet and concluded Thursday evening at the chapel with Harvey Waddelow delivering a stirring message, "Witnessing in Zaire."

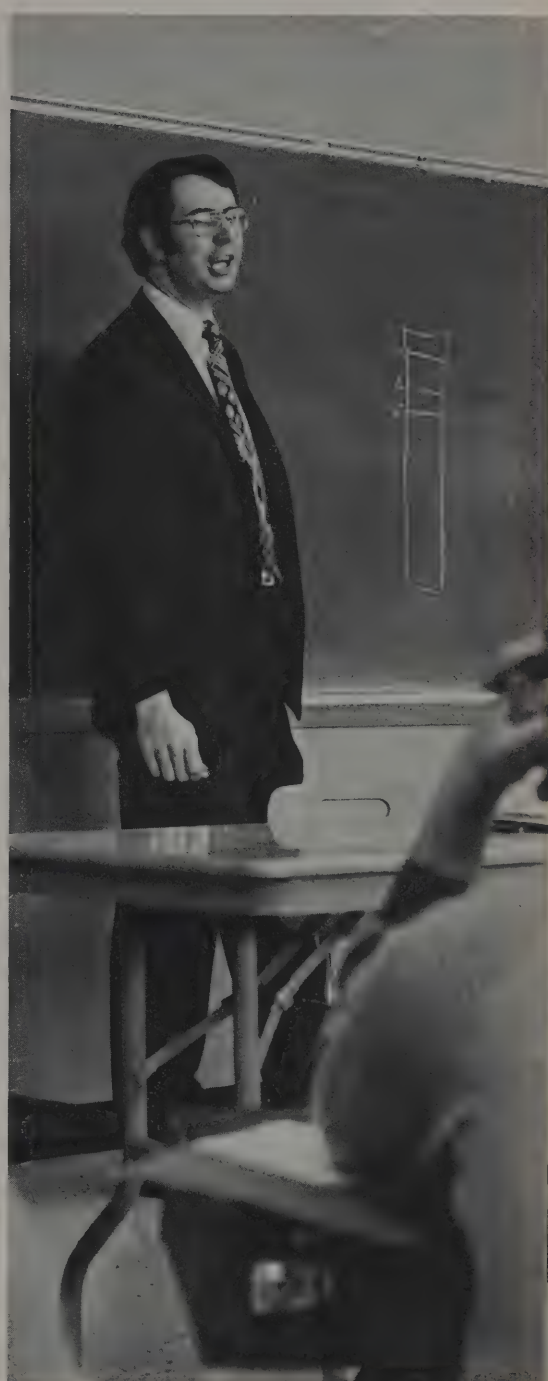

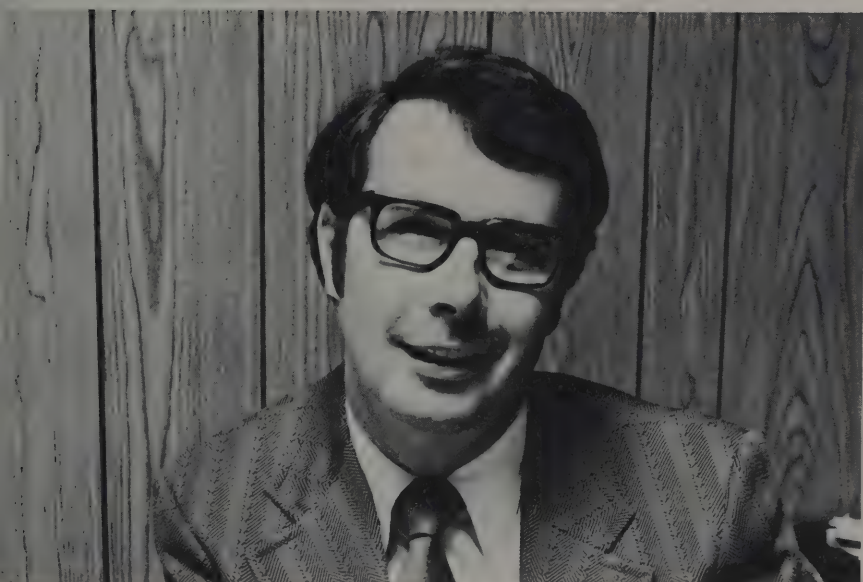

Mission Emphasis Week provided increased vision and renewed dedication to the salvation of all mankind as missionaries from around the world led workshops and gave slide presentations to the student body.

Spring's return (that's parousia for you Greeks) is prefigured by Spring Break. While most students are relaxing at home, the Concert Choir is engaged in ten greuelling yet rewarding days.

Spring soon reveals her colors, and new life breaks forth on the campus. Students who should be studying instead head for the tennis courts. Everyone senses that the end is in sight as preparations begin for final exams and those dreaded term papers.

For the Seniors this spring is the final paragraph of a significant chapter of life, college days — days and years which will not soon be forgotten. And yet the end of this chapter signals the beginning of a new. A chapter of even more active presentation of the gospel. A chapter of the evangelization for which we have prepared.

"New Life" is really what it is all about.

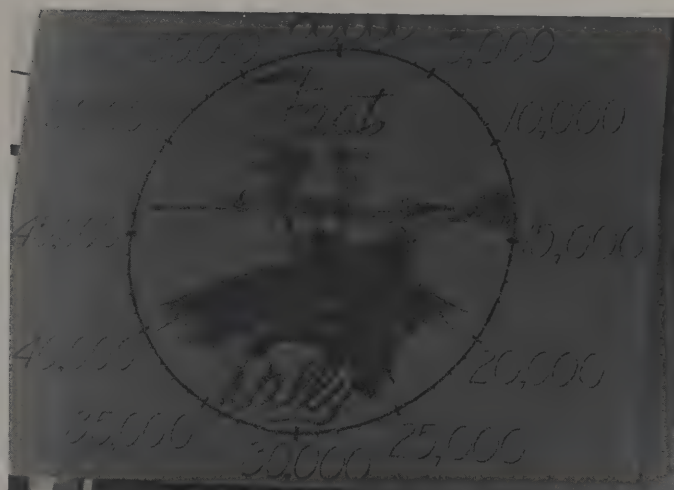

NEW LIFE

Special F.A.S.T. Rally, February 27, 1975

The Cincinnati Bible Seminary was feeling the brunt of the nation's sinking economy until February 27 when the college sponsored the F.A.S.T. Rally. The Faculty, Administration, Students, and Trustees were asked to sacrifice themselves and pledge a specific sum to ease the financial load of the school.

The people of God have pledged over $90,000 to the college to the glory of God. Many will never forget the joy of giving and the warmth of being united in the same task on that February 27, 1975, the day of the F.A.S.T. Rally.

Choir Tour, a Personality of Its Own

The annual Concert Choir Tour climaxes many hours of rehearsal by the Concert Choir. Long bus rides provide opportunity for close fellowship and development of new friendships.

A day spent at the Koerners' farm in northwestern Ohio highlighted this year's tour. In the barn secret tunnels beneath hay bales intrigued some people. Other singers climbed in the hay loft, swung from the hay rope, or played barn ball.

The evening concerts were made even more meaningful by the fun and fellowship shared together on Choir Tour 1975.

Talent Is Developed to Produce Results

Music majors climax four years of study with a recital. Each student demonstrates the proficiency he has acquired in his major field of study.

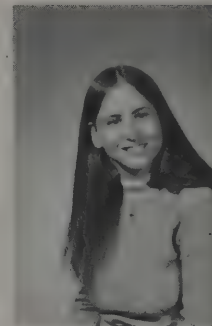

As the recital date nears, the tension mounts. The piano major is sure he'll be stricken with acute inflammatory arthritis the day of the recital. The organ major knows that as he climbs the steps to take his seat at the organ, he'll miss a step and sprain his ankle. The voice major is under conviction that that morning he'll wake up with a frog in his throat.

Only the naive think a recital is to showcase the student's talent: a recital does wonders for one's prayer life!

Nothing Holds a Candle to This Event

Candlelights are one of the most significant social occurrences of the year. The event begins to take shape when the guy decides to say those four, final, fatal words to the one he loves. Candlelight announcements are posted, and the speculation begins. Who is the lucky girl?

Love songs start the candlelight and devotions follow. Nothing can match the excitement which grows as the candle is passed the second time and she blows it out. These pictures tell the story.

Students Find Expression in Clubs

Several clubs and organizations exist among the student body for the purpose of serving the students themselves, the whole Seminary family, or members of the community.

Of Making a Yearbook . . . No End?

At times, working on the Nautilus seems like an endless task. As each deadline nears, the pace quickens with the editor and adviser sometimes working late into the night to complete the assignment.

Nautilus 1975 is the result of the contributions of each staff member. Diane Young, Earl Stover, Lucian Pickering, and Kelly Boyd covered events for the Nautilus. Layout work was headed up by Mr. Friskney, Nautilus adviser, with assistance from Kathy Overly, Bruce Maxwell, and Julie Coggeshall. Regina Bennett, Ron Miller, and Robin Smith, Nautilus editor, wrote copy. Rick Amerine was business manager.

All Awaited Campus Day, April 16, 1975

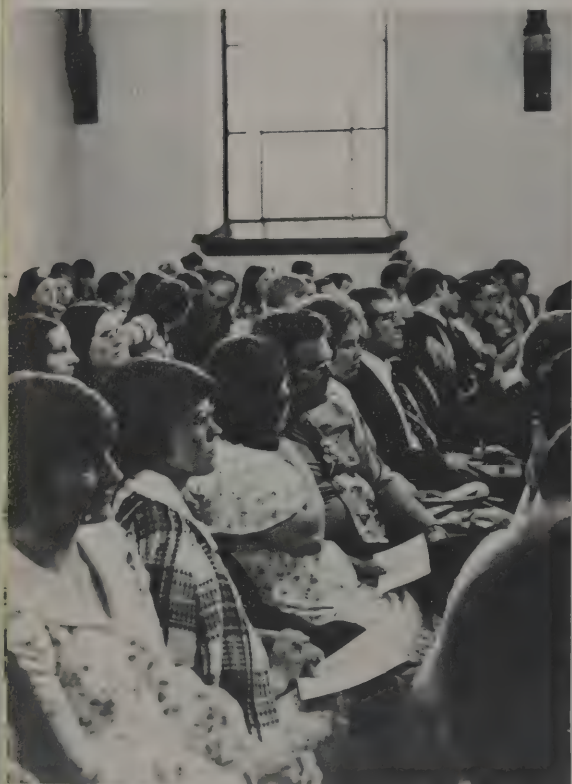

Devotions in front of the Coach House signaled the start of Campus Day. Advanced preparation by the sophomores produced well-organized crews to tackle various cleanup and improvement jobs around campus.

Students and faculty alike found that hard work and fellowship complement each other. Although at times there was more fellowship than working, the coordinated efforts of all resulted in an enjoyable day in which much was accomplished.

The Day, the Hour, the Moment — of Honor

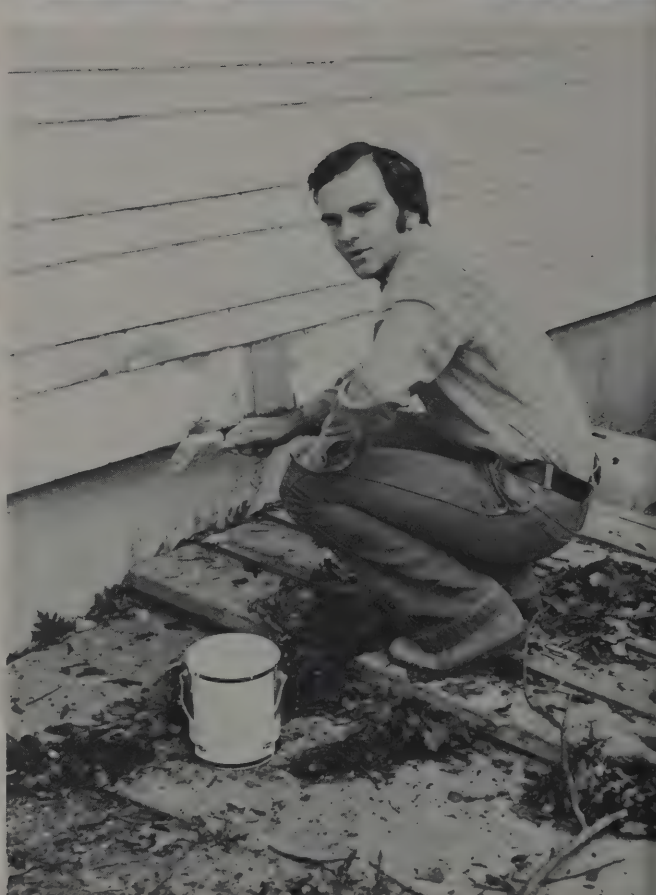

C.C.S. Dean Sam Stone directed the thoughts of all to the proper place of Honors Day. Noting Paul's exhortation in Romans 13:7 to render to all what is due them, Dean Stone stressed the wise counsel of Solomon regarding honor: "... And before honor comes humility."

Department heads then honored students who had demonstrated excellence in achievement, academics, and Christian character. These students were selected by the professors in various areas of study.

Tributes to Ones of the Class of 1975

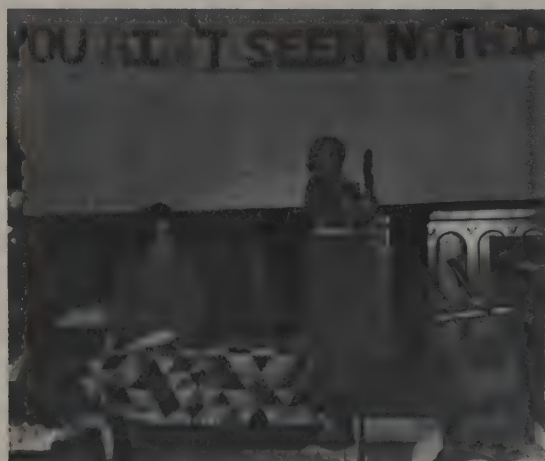

Thanks is due Professor R.J. Kidwell, who sponsored the Class of 1975. The Class honored Mr. Kidwell with an "ebenezer stone" and accompanying plaque to express its gratitude to Mr. Kidwell for his sponsorship.

Dee Dee Holland, M. Athelston Clark, and Glen Schneiders delivered respectively the valedictory, salutatory, and oratorical addresses at Commencement. Delta Aleph Tau received into its membership six seniors who maintained a straight "A" average at C.B.S. Dave Underwood and Glen Schneiders received scholarships from the Alumni Association to encourage them in postgraduate studies.

"You Ain't Seen Nothin' Yet!"

"Every dog has his day." So says an old proverb, and Senior Night testifies to its truth. After listening to numerous presentations of the school by administration and public relations personnel gatherings, the Seniors portray the school as they see it.

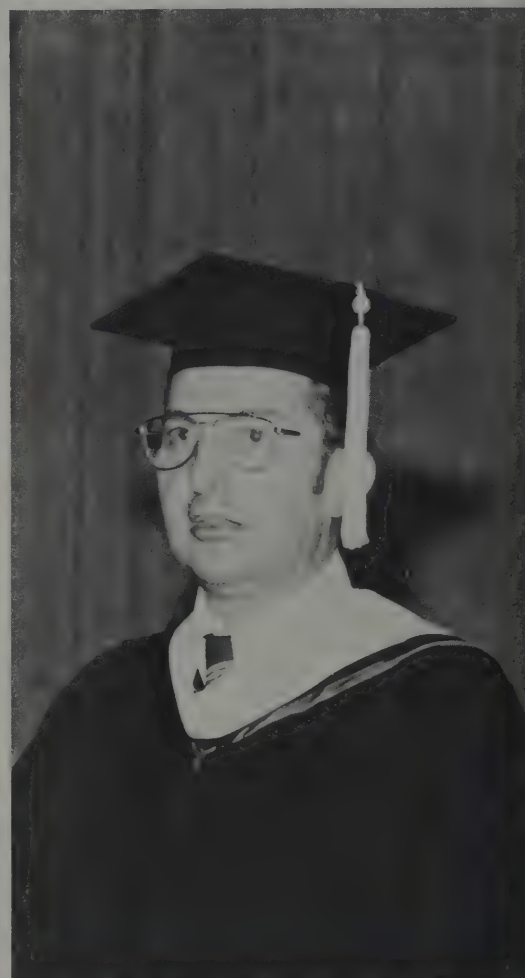

And who would know C.B.S. better? By the time graduation arrives, each student has spent approximately 2000 hours in C.B.S. classrooms. Multiply that number by the number of graduating seniors, and you find that 150,000 hours of experience in the classroom alone is represented by the Senior Class.

The evening turns out to be full of good-natured, rib-poking times as students caricature various professors and comically recreate memorable events from their own special time of life, known as college days. Truly days never to be re-lived and never to be forgotten, "Hail to thee, our alma mater, C.B.S. . ."

Prof. Elliott Brought a Mighty Message

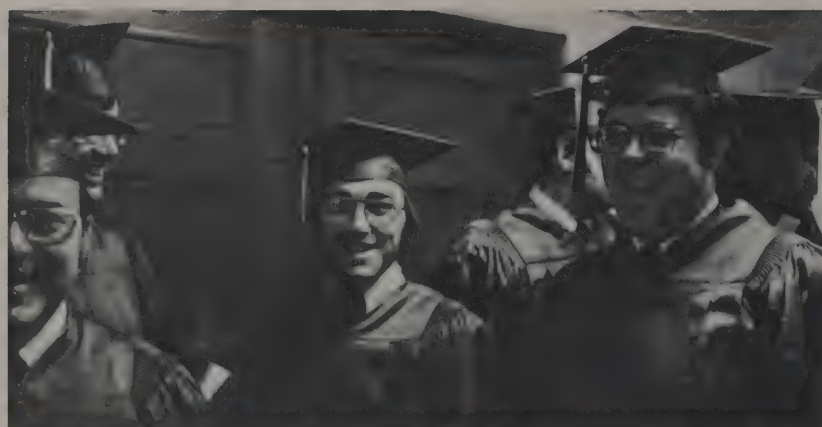

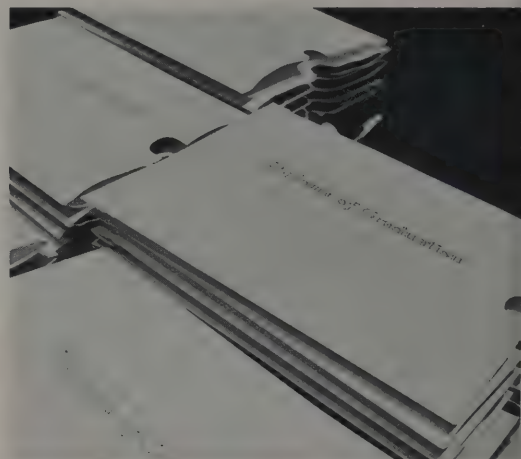

The Class of 1975 selected Professor George Mark Elliott to deliver the baccalaureate address. Mr. Elliott in his address, "Christ Our Lord and His Word and His Church," emphatically reiterated the foundation upon which each graduate must stand as he goes forth in the service of our Lord Jesus Christ.

Speeches, Diplomas, Tears, Farewells

Family and friends of the Seminary and the graduates crowded the Scottish Rite Cathedral at 10:30 a.m., May 9, 1975, to see degrees conferred and honors bestowed. At this time, Jack Ballard and John Wilson, C.B.S. trustees, received honorary Doctor of Divinity degrees for their exceptional leadership in the local church and faithful service to their alma mater.

The 51st year of The Cincinnati Bible Seminary came to a close as the new graduates marched from the cathedral to the compelling strains of "Onward Christian Soldiers."

People quite important to us as students at CBS have not yet been pictured upon the pages of our book.

Many of these people have never even visited the campus or attended a chapel or class session. Yet their support has enriched our years at school. Many have been diligent in prayer. Others have merely contributed to make this volume possible.

Whatever the degree of involvement, our thanks is extended to all of them upon these pages of "Afterglow."

Alas, the Afterword!

Our journey stands complete. The bustle of spring has yielded to the serenity of summer, the transition coinciding with the end of our year at C.B.S.

The hill once again lies quiet as if reflecting upon the myriad events so recently completed. If she could talk, she no doubt would tell us of a score of years quite similar to this most recent one. And yet she would be able to tell us specific events and people which made the year 1974-75 unique.

Within these pages we have strived to picture the people and places which made this year a specific year for all involved. It has been their season.
